Accountability Office, 2007 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)182552592 Subject: Administrative procedure -- United States. Excerpt: . . . either in writing or in person, but are required to disclose such 24 communications in the public record. The rules require a person making an oral ex parte presentation that includes data or arguments not already reflected in that persons other filings to submit a disclosure to the record 25 summarizing the new data and arguments. The rules state that the summary should generally be more than a one or two sentence 26 description and not just a listing of the subjects discussed. When there is ambiguity about whether data or arguments are already in the public record, FCC encourages parties to briefly summarize the matters discussed at a meeting. FCCs ex parte rules also establish the Sunshine Period, which begins when FCC releases the Sunshine Agenda of items scheduled for a vote at a public meeting and ends when those items are released to the public after the vote or are removed from the agenda before the meeting. During the Sunshine 27 Agenda unless there is a specific exemption. The Sunshine Period does not apply to items that are voted on by circulation. FCC rules state that staff must not directly or indirectly disclose nonpublic 28 information outside the agency without authorization by the chairman. Nonpublic information includes the content of public meeting agenda items, except for as required to comply with the Sunshine Act, and actions or decisions made by the commission at closed meetings or by circulation 29 prior to the...
